

ROIDTrends brand guide

ROIDTrends monitors image and performance enhancing drug markets and harms in Australia, at the University of Queensland. This guide covers how our research looks and sounds across bulletins, social posts, slides, fact sheets, handouts, web and email.

Everything here is derived from the Half-Year Bulletin and the drug alert carousel. Where a project has another design system attached, this guide takes precedence for anything ROIDTrends publishes under its own name.

01 COLOUR

Three colours: black, white, and one purple. No second accent, no gradients, no drop shadows. Greys are structural only — they carry secondary text and hairlines, never meaning, except in charts.

Ink #0A0A0A	Paper #FFFFFF	Purple — core #48055E
Purple light #B96FD8 · on dark only	Purple tint #F2EEF5 · stat fills	Grey 700 #44444C · body on light	Grey 500 #6A6A72 · captions	Grey 200 #B8B8BE · body on dark

Contrast rule

Core purple on white passes for body text. Core purple on black does not. On dark grounds, purple text is always #B96FD8; core purple stays for fills, bars and borders.

Light and dark are equally official. Light grounds carry bulletins, reports, fact sheets, handouts, web and email. Dark grounds carry social. Never mix the two inside one artefact unless the switch marks a deliberate section break.

02 TYPOGRAPHY

Archivo does the work. Archivo Narrow appears only as uppercase, letter-spaced kickers, labels, axis text and metadata — never as body copy. Nothing is italic; emphasis is weight.

DISPLAY 78 / 0.98 / 800	Three vials. One label.
HEADLINE 44-64 / 1.0 / 800	A label tells you the compound, not the dose
SUBHEAD 32-36 / 1.15 / 700	Start low with a new vial
BIG NUMBER 40-62 / 800-900	7/7
BODY 24-27 SOCIAL · 15-17 PRINT	Nearly every sample held what it said it did — none held how much it said it did.
KICKER — NARROW UPPERCASE · 0.22EM	DRUG ALERT
CAPTION 19-21 SOCIAL · 11-12 PRINT	Based on 7 consumer-submitted samples analysed January–June 2026. Small sample size — indicative, not representative.

Measure: 34–42 characters on social, 65–80 in print. Headings balance, body wraps pretty. Minimum sizes: 24px on a 1080×1350 social canvas, 11pt in print.

03 LOGO

The bell curve with drop-lines over the stacked ROID / TRENDS wordmark. Two versions only: black for light grounds, white for dark.

- Always top-right, aligned to the top of the kicker on the opposite side.
- Width roughly 12% of the artefact width (132px on a 1080px canvas).
- Clear space on every side of at least the cap-height of TRENDS.
- Never recolour to purple, stretch, rotate, outline, add effects, crop the curve, or place over a busy photograph.

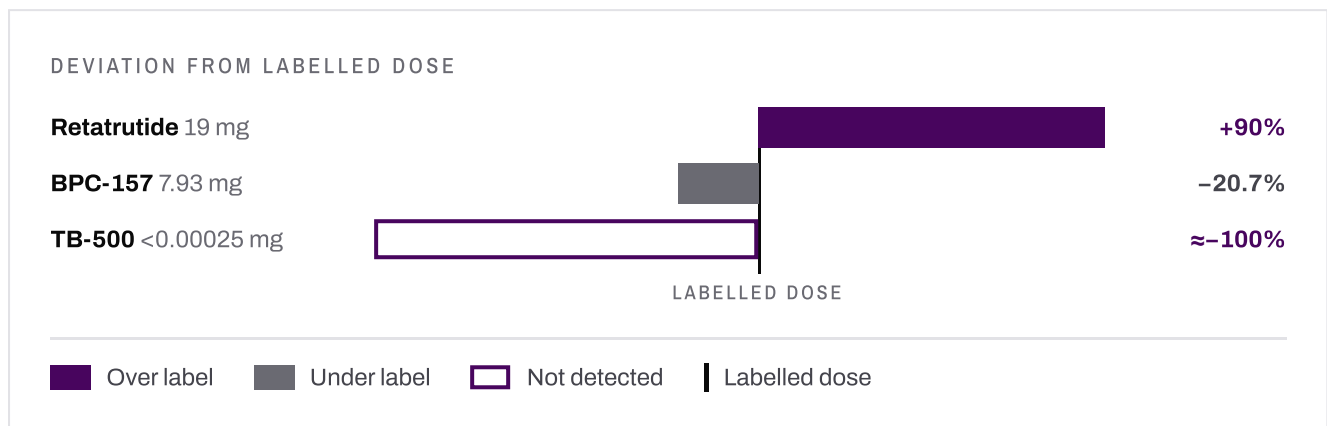

04 LAYOUT

Flush left, generous whitespace on the right. Nothing centred except a lone number. Every social slide opens with a 10px core-purple bar along the top edge, then a header row: Narrow purple kicker left, logo right.

FORMAT	SIZE	GROUND	MARGIN	NOTES
Bulletin / report	A4 portrait	Light	0.75in	Masthead, numbered sections, citation block last
IG post / carousel	1080×1350	Dark	72px	Max 3–5 slides; one idea per slide
IG story	1080×1920	Dark	72px, 250px safe top/bottom	One statement, one number
Slide deck	1920×1080	Light, dark dividers	96px	Text never below 24px
Fact sheet / flyer	A4 portrait	Light	0.6in	One page, one takeaway per column
Peer-worker handout	A5 or DL	Light	0.4in	Body 12pt min; readable in low light
Website	1440 max, 12-col	Light	80px / 24px mobile	Body 17px; 44px min hit targets
Email	600px	Light	24px	Single column; Arial fallback for Archivo

05 DATA VISUALISATION

Colour encodes one thing only: direction against the label. Nothing else in a chart is ever coloured.

- The labelled dose is always a reference line, never a bar.
- Always print the real measured number beside the bar.
- Never truncate an axis. One chart per slide. Order by magnitude of deviation unless chronology matters.
- Small multiples in preference to dual axes. On dark grounds, purple fills carry a #B96FD8 edge and the track is #1C1C24.

06 VOICE

Plain, respectful, factual. We report what was in the vial; the reader decides what to do with that. Informed consent is the frame — we supply information, never instruction.

WRITE

“This is your decision. These are the steps that give you more of the information behind it.”

NOT

“Don’t risk it — you never know what you’re really putting in your body.”

RULE	IN PRACTICE
No “user”	Say “people who use”, “someone using”, or address the reader directly as “you”.
No loaded words	Never “abuse”, “misuse”, “clean”, “dirty”, “safe”, “unsafe”.
No scare tactics	No shock imagery, no death counts as a hook, no telling people not to use.
Always state limits	Every artefact carrying results names the sample size and the caveat: “Based on N consumer-submitted samples analysed [period]. Small sample size — indicative, not representative.”
Accuracy ≠ safety	A dose matching its label is accurate, not safe. Never let a chart imply otherwise.
Gloss the jargon	First use in public work carries a plain-language gloss: “retatrutide, a weight-loss peptide”.
Name the vendor	Where we have the data, name brands and vendors with the batch and test period. Never generalise one result to a whole vendor.
Active and short	“One vial held four times another”, not “a fourfold variance was observed”.

07 BOILERPLATE

NAME

ROIDTrends — one word, capital R, capital T.
Never “Roid Trends”, never “RT”.

HOST INSTITUTION

The University of Queensland.

STANDING DESCRIPTION

ROIDTrends monitors image and performance enhancing drug markets and harms in Australia.

CITATION

Akrigg K., Ferris J., Bonenti B., Kill E., Davey G., Weith S., Craven A., Piatkowski T. ROIDTrends [Report Title]. IPED Trends Bulletin Series. UQ, Queensland; [year]. DOI: [doi]

BULLETIN TITLE STYLE

HALF-YEAR SUMMARY | JANUARY – JUNE 2026

Open items for the team: confirmed website and Instagram handle, sample-submission terms, funder acknowledgement and ethics wording. Send them through and I’ll fold them into v2.

